Cape May-Lewes Ferry Terminal

Nash Metropolitan

Nash announced in October of 1952 that two companies based in Birmingham, England would build its new Metropolitan sub-compact economy car. Fisher & Ludlow would produce the bodywork, and the Austin Motor Company the mechanicals and final assembly. This was the first time an American-designed car, to be exclusively marketed in North America, would be entirely built in Europe. The Metropolitan came in convertible and hardtop. Several standard features, optional on most cars of the era, were a map light, electric windshield wipers, cigar lighter, and a "continental-type" covered rear-mounted spare tire. Some 95,000 Metropolitans were sold in the United States and Canada from 1953 to 1961, making it one of the top-selling cars to be imported into both countries at the time. Its sales in 1959 spurred the introduction of new compact models from GM, Ford & Chrysler.
