Critical 100 Days of Summer

Hi, Everyone,

Summer is upon us whether ready or not. We are finally able to get out on the road and drive our fine Little British Cars.

While we all are pondering the next few months figuring out how we can squeeze in a few outings and possibly a couple meetings. It is fairly certain the way of life we knew a short months ago is forever changed. But that doesn't mean we have to stop having fun.

As Memorial Day marks the official start of Summer. We can wear white (not necessarily me), we can put on our Bermuda's and hope the last few weeks have been kind to our waste line. The beginning of Summer is also a reminder that it's time for my annual Critical 100 Days of Summer safety message. I hope it serves as a commonsense review.

The first and foremost - drive safely. Minimize your distractions. Put down the phone. Pull over if you need to use it. Look around for the drivers who are not observing the posted speed limit. Yes, currently drivers believe all our local roads are like Germany's Autobahn. Those of us who've driven in Germany immediately see the similarity of US Rt 1 to the A19 Autobahn. Although US Rt1 has a speed limit there is nothing like edging a bit past it then glancing into the rearview mirror to see a blurry dot coming up fast then passing by into infinity thinking, "what the heck was that?" So, pay attention!

Now that Delaware, as well as surrounding states, begin phasing into "normal," that is, balancing personal safety with economic needs. I'm very happy the nice weather announces the end of the world health crisis. Let's hope it stays that way.

It is our wish, Georgia and I, that everyone has a terrific 2021 summer and let's all make it to Labor Day and beyond the same way as we begin - SAFE AND SOUND.

As you celebrate, please remembered our serving and fallen heroes - they continue to make our way of life possible.

See you out there - Top Down!

Terry
